1. The purpose and objectives of discipline assimilation

1. The purpose and objectives of the discipline

The program of discipline "Organization of restaurant activities in International Tourism" is intended for bachelors of the direction of 43.03.02 "Tourism".

Organization of restaurant activities in International Tourism as an academic discipline gives an idea of the process of functioning of the food service in the hospitality industry.

The purpose of mastering the discipline "Organization of restaurant activities in International Tourism" is to obtain the necessary theoretical knowledge on the scientific basis of nutrition, as well as to identify the elements that are fundamental to the success of the catering enterprise and to reveal their relationship. The manager of the catering service should be able to coordinate the interaction of three elements: visitors, functional activities of the catering enterprise (the proposed set of dishes and drinks, physical parameters and operations of the institution) and staff. The task of the restaurant operator is to manage these three elements so that customers are fully satisfied.

The objectives of the discipline "Organization of restaurant activities in International Tourism" is the formation of knowledge and skills in the following areas of activity:

- study of restaurant service, catering services of hotel complexes;
- study of normative and technical documentation;
- study of recommendations on nutrition of children in tourist institutions;
- study of key factors that influence business growth and determine the success of the institution and the financial foundations of the restaurant industry;
- to study the formation and consistent flow of food and beverages through all operating areas of the restaurant — from suppliers to the final consumer;
- examine effective procedures for the procurement, acceptance, storage and distribution of food, beverages and other products that ensure the functioning of the restaurant, as well as the most important production and service systems in terms of the most effective cost control;
- to form a General idea of technological kitchen equipment and interior elements of the restaurant hall, maintenance and repair of technological kitchen equipment, as well as a comprehensive energy saving program;
- analyse the importance of ensuring proper hygiene and food safety.

2. The place of discipline in the structure of the educational program

"Organization of restaurant activities in International Tourism" refers to the optional part of the disciplines. Its development takes place in the 6th semester of the full-time form of education.

3. Relationship with previous disciplines

The discipline "Organization of restaurant activities in International Tourism" is logically connected with other disciplines, such as: "Service activities in tourism", "Management in international tourism", "Organizational and managerial practice".

4. Relationship with subsequent disciplines

The discipline "Organization of restaurant activities in International Tourism" serves as the basis for the study of disciplines: "Project development in tourism and recreation".

Intermediate attestation in the form of credit

The procedure of credit (differential credit) as a separate control measure is not carried out, the evaluation of the student's knowledge is based on the results of the current control.

The offset is set according to the results of the work in the semester, when all the control points provided by the current control of progress are passed. If on the basis of the semester the student has from 33 to 60 points, he is marked as "credited". The trainee, who has less than 33 points on the basis of the semester, is marked "not credited".

8.4 Methodological materials defining procedures for assessing knowledge, skills, and (or) experience of activities that characterize the stages of forming competencies

Admission to practical classes takes place when there is a summary of the relevant lecture and a summary of independently studied literature on the topic. To the practical lesson, the student must prepare answers to questions, perform tasks on the topic of the lesson.

The student receives the maximum number of points if he actively participates in the work, owns the material, knows how to logically and clearly express thoughts, creatively approaches the solution of the main issues of the topic, shows the independence of thinking.

The reason for the decrease in the evaluation are:

- poor knowledge of the topic and basic terminology;
- inactivity of participation in group work;
- lack of the ability to apply theoretical knowledge to solve practical problems;
- untimely submission of work performed.

Criteria for evaluating the results of independent work are given in the Fund for Evaluation Means for Discipline.

9. Methodical instructions for students to learn the discipline

At the first stage it is necessary to get acquainted with the work program of the discipline in which the content of the topics of practical exercises, themes and types of independent work is considered. For each type of independent work, certain forms of reporting are provided.
